

PRESERVES BODY OF HIS FATHER IN ALCOHOL

Devoted Son, Now Aged,
Views Lifelike Face
87 Years.

PARIS, July 18.—The story of the devotion of a son to his father is being told in Paris newspapers, which recount how the body of the parent has been preserved in alcohol for 37 years, that the son now aged, may gaze daily upon the beloved features of the parent. According to the Paris papers, a private chapel was erected 37 years ago near the village cemetery of Viverols, in the Puyble Dome department by the son when his father died. The son obtained permission of civil and church authorities and had a zinc coffin constructed, with a glass top. This he filled with alcohol and in it laid the body of his father, fully clothed. The features to-day are lifelike, it is said, and each day the aged son goes to gaze reverently upon the features of the parent he adored.

The "Long Distance" Way 'Round Is The Shortest Way Known

HE was out West on a selling trip. Business was slow. He was told to come home. He demurred. Started selling by long distance telephone. Read what he says:

"I have just finished an 18,000 mile trip selling by telephone every step of the way—only my 'steps' have been hundreds of miles apart. My plan has been to select a city as a center, plot out the territory around it in the form of a checkerboard and make my moves by 'Long Distance'."

"Here are some of the results and they are illustrative, for I have had practically the same experience in every city selected as a centre of operations."

"In Lansing, Mich., the circuit took in 80 miles north, east, south and west. My telephone tolls cost $24, my profit was $380, and a continuous repeat afterwards by mail."

"From Richmond, Va., I tapped the West Virginia coal mine territory. My tolls were $90 and my profit $940."

"In 4½ hours with telephone calls from Madison, Wis., that cost $22 I got sales for a total of $1400."

"Calls from New Orleans cost $34. Sales amounted to $1900."

"Figure what it would cost in time and money to cover these territories personally and you have the whole story as far as cutting costs is concerned."

The "Long Distance" Way 'Round is the Shortest Way Known. It Puts the Speed into Selling Work that Every Business Needs.
